

POWER DISTRIBUTION

Flexible, Safe and Certified

The wide range of power distribution components allows you to connect all products from Boston in the easiest and most cost-effective way. All components are certified and can be connected and disconnected even under load.

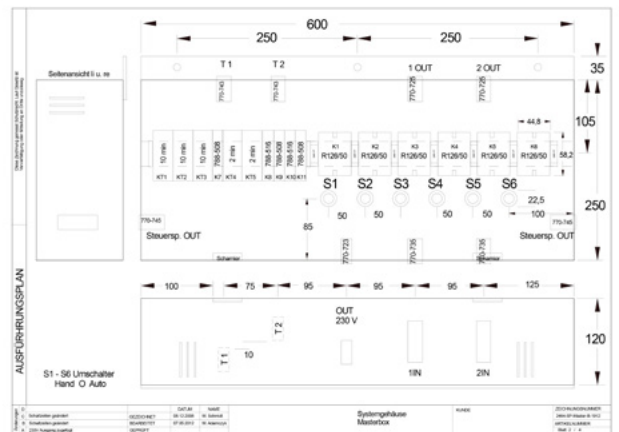

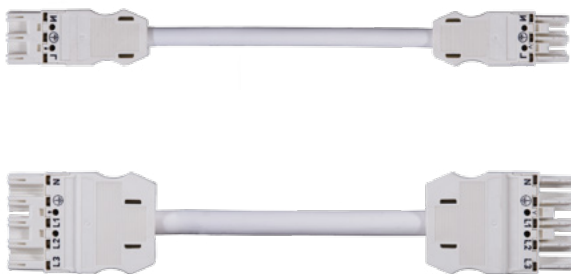

With this system you are able to combine and power our different product categories without the need of electrical hardwiring, just by plug&play. The products are available in different configurations to meet your power requirements.

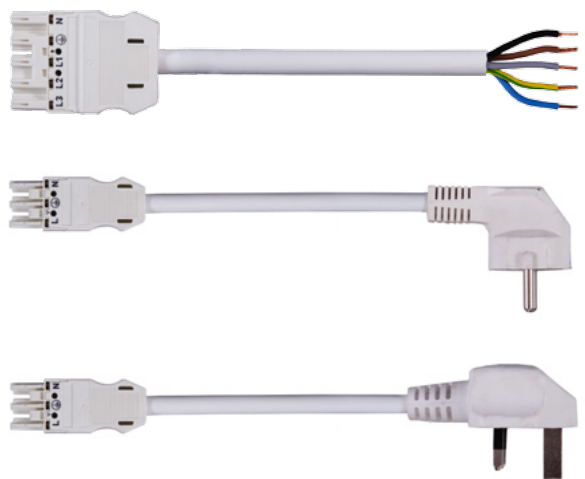

Power distribution boxes, for the most effective powering

Custom made control- and switch-boards

Distribution cables in different lengths and configurations

Homerun cables in different styles for different country specifications

