Design & Simulation

With cutting edge design and manufacturing capabilities Boston Group stays ahead with continuous investment in capabilities to deliver value driven solutions. Our advanced simulation and modeling software allow you to view your fixture design in isolation, as single unit or within the intended environment.

Production & Manufacturing

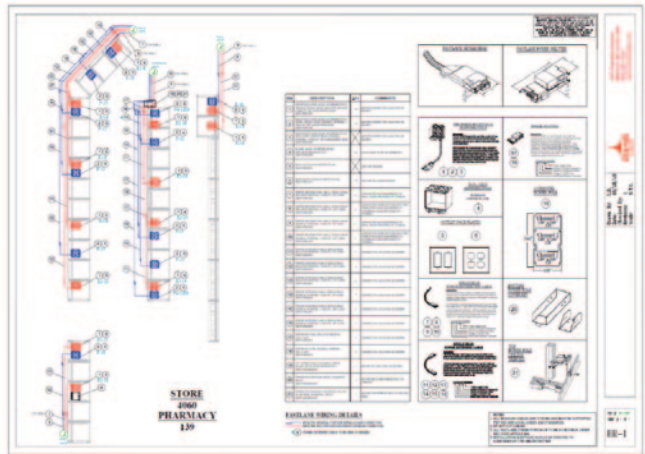

Boston Group employs fully automated manufacturing cells that punch, bend, form and laser-cut to exact specifications, bridging concept to product release.

Certification & Compliance

We ensure every product we make complies with strict third party national safety standards for mechanical, electrical and environmental compliance.
